ABOUT

Jeff Chen, known professionally as Kid Stylez, is an International DJ from Houston, Texas, USA. Over a span of two decades, this veteran DJ has rocked sold out events across the globe, performed on nationally syndicated radio mixshows, and played for large-scale music events like Club Nomadic (Super Bowl Music Fest). Now making his own remixes and tracks, this DJ has recently found a whole new love for music and performing.

As an open format DJ, this party rocker is well-known for surprising crowds with "left turns," as well as live blends and remixes in his high-energy sets. He draws on his love for all types of music to put together crowd-pleasing performances that break genre barriers. Jeff is a master at reading crowds, and on any given night you might hear house, trap, freestyle, breakbeat, electro, new wave, dancehall, hip hop, r&b, and pop all perfectly fused together.

Jeff has headlined his own shows, as well as performed alongside many of today's most recognizable music talent. As of 2012, Jeff has primarily directed his focus on the EDM (Electronic Dance Music) scene. He has been chosen as a supporting act for multiple Armin Van Buuren tours, as well as many other EDM artist tours. He has also performed at EDM festivals across the globe, such as Ultra Korea, The Friendship, and Something Wicked. Whether you catch him playing tech house as DJ Jeff Chen or playing a major festival set as Kid Stylez, it is easy to see why this DJ is always a crowd favorite.
